Affordable Housing Professionals of New Jersey Housing Search Resource Page

AHPNJ is an organization for people involved in the field of affordable housing and as such does not provide direct assistance to individuals looking for affordable housing; however, below are some resources for individuals looking for housing. We do our best to provide accurate and up-to-date resources, but as an all-volunteer organization that is not always possible. In addition to the resources shown below, you can call 211 or the Board of Social Services in your county for assistance.
